

TRAVEL

New hotels for family-friendly travel in America, from Florida to Tennessee and more

South Carolina, Georgia among other US states where new hotels are open to book

By Perri Ormont Blumberg · Fox News

Published November 16, 2024 4:00am EST

There's so much America out there to explore.

From the Catskill Mountains to beachy retreats in Myrtle Beach to lake life on Mackinac Island, a new roster of family-friendly hotels have hit the market in recent months.

Below, check out 10 hotels and resorts to take your kids for indoor water park splashes, zip lining jaunts, arcade game showdowns and much more.

Okana in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

This Oklahoma resort and indoor waterpark will officially open in the spring of 2025, so consider getting your reservations in now. (OKANA Resort & Indoor Waterpark)

For families who are fans of water parks, add the Okana Resort & Indoor Waterpark in OKC to your radar, scheduled to open in spring 2025.

The $400 million property runs the gamut – from a 100,000 sq. ft. indoor water park featuring 15 water slides to a 4.5-acre outdoor adventure lagoon featuring an obstacle course. It also has a "fly" pool, where guests can zip, jump and slide into the water, luxury cabanas and lounge chairs along a sandy beachfront.

Once everyone has dried off, kids will go wild for interactive arcade games, arts and crafts and prizes in the family entertainment center.

On-site, you'll find 12 food and beverage venues, and families can choose from a variety of suite options when it's time to hit the hay.

Prices start at $149 per night.